Ottinger of N.Y., charged that the army has spent more than $26 million developing the "diabolical" dart gun that Congress never authorized. Ottinger described the SPIW as "a lightweight shoulder-fired rifle capable of selectively delivering point target projectiles in the form of flechettes (finned steel darts) and area-target munition in the form of 40 mm anti-personnel grenades."

Amend Fund Cutoff Bill To Avoid Delay

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate voted 82 to 11 Tuesday to put into conciliatory language an amendment to cut off funds for future U.S. military operations in Cambodia. But action on the basic issue seems far off. Instead, administration supporters launched the first in a series of moves to dilute or bar enforcement of the pending Cooper-Church amendment.

Sen. Robert J. Dole, R-Kan., introduced a rider to make the proposed amendment inoperative while U.S. citizens or nationals are held as prisoners of war in Cambodia by the North Vietnamese or Viet Cong.

Dole said this would add real meaning to the amendment by Sens. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., and Frank Church, D-Idaho, to bar funds after June 30 for retaining U.S. forces in Cambodia. It also would restrict U.S. aid and use of air power in Cambodia.

Dole said of his proposal "I wouldn't think we would vote on this this week." Asked if opponents of the Cooper-Church amendment are stalling, he replied "We are not trying to rush it."

All but a handful of hard-line opponents of any Senate curb on presidential war-making powers voted for the conciliatory language, offered by Church and Cooper in hopes of opening the way toward an accommodation.

But the White House says the revised amendment still is unacceptable, and the vote was considered meaningless by both sides.

Cooper-Church forces claim they already have a majority of votes, but in order to put their amendment into pending military sales legislation they will have to beat off a variety of watering down proposals—and then force a vote which some administration backers have threatened to delay until June 30—the date President Nixon pledged U.S. troops would leave Cambodia.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said he doesn't know when the basic amendment will be voted on. And Republican Leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania said there may be two or three days on each alternative amendment.

Meanwhile a White House spokesman described as inaccurate a published report that all U.S. forces might be out of Cambodia as much as a week before the June 30 deadline.

"We've announced our schedule. We are on schedule. Things are proceeding well," said press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler.

In response to a question, Ziegler reiterated there are no plans to reintroduce American troops into Cambodia but said the United States is reserving an option to assist South Vietnamese forces with air operations in Cambodia after July 1 if that seems necessary to the security of U.S. troops in South Vietnam.

Earlier it was disclosed that the United States is giving $7.5 million worth of small arms to the Communist-beleaguered Cambodian government.

Propose Wage, Price Controls Ask Economy Ceilings

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress would require President Nixon's economic advisers to set wage and price guidelines—and direct the President to try to persuade labor and business to follow them—under a bill approved 5-1 Tuesday by a House subcommittee.

All five Democrats on the House subcommittee on executive reorganization voted for the measure with several saying they favor even stronger wage-price steps. One of the three Republican members voted against it.

With members of Congress voicing increasing concern over climbing prices and the falling stock market, the government reported a mixed trend in wholesale prices in May.

The preliminary report said a climb of three-tenths of one percent for a broad range of industrial products outweighed a drop of five-tenths of one percent for farm products, processed foods and feeds.

The net effect was to push the Labor Department's wholesale price index up two-tenths of one percent to 116.8, compared to 100 in the base period of 1957-59. The May index stood 3.5 percent above the level a year earlier.

It was a substantial drop in food prices last month that caused the index to remain level for the first time in 18 months and the wholesale decline for food also showed up in the April consumer price index, showing grocery prices unchanged in April for the American consumers' only break in living costs still spiraling upward at a rate of six percent a year.

The preliminary report for May showed the wholesale price index 3.5 percent above a year ago, representing a smaller annual climb than the figures of four percent or more that prevailed through late 1969.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics said lower prices for meat and fish were largely responsible for the wholesale drop this month. There were also declines for manufactured animal feeds, fats, oils, black pepper, hogs, cattle, lambs, fresh eggs and hay.

There were price increases for fresh and dried vegetables, fresh fruits, live poultry, raw cotton, milk and coffee.

"Substantial increases in gasoline prices were the most important influence on the industrial index in May," the report said.

The House Ways and Means Committee approved and sent to the House for debate a bill granting the Nixon administration's request for a boost of $18 billion in the national debt ceiling, raising it to $395 billion.

At the same time the committee made public estimates by its staff that falling corporate and personal income will result in bigger federal deficits than the administration has anticipated.

Instead of the administration estimate of a $1.3-billion deficit for the fiscal year beginning July 1, the staff put the figure at $4.5 billion—even if all Nixon's proposals for new revenue are enacted.

The White House announced that President Nixon will meet with 60 to 100 business and financial leaders Wednesday night to discuss the economy and the reasons for the U.S. move into Cambodia. The names of those invited were not announced.

The author of the wage-price bill, Rep. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis., predicted the full House Government Operations will report it out next week by the same kind of party-line vote.

"This could be the lever," Reuss said, "that will force the President to face up to his responsibilities."

But Rep. Clarence J. Brown, R-Ohio, who cast the only opposing vote, said the bill is nothing more than "a partisan effort to try to lay the blame (for inflation) on the President."

The bill would require the President's Council of Economic Advisers to report wage-price guideposts "as soon as reasonably possible after enactment of this act" and by Jan. 20 each year thereafter to the House-Senate Economic Committee.

It would direct the President to set up an agency to "review actual or imminent price or wage behavior which is inconsistent with the wage-price guideposts and which threatens national economic stability" and direct the President to "make such recommendations to the parties concerned as he believes to be in the public interest."

Market Falls 10 Points

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks fell 10.20 points to 631.16, the lowest in eight years. The average has not been as low since Nov. 19, 1962 when it closed at 626.21.

New York Stock Exchange volume of 17.03 million shares came close to the 17.5 million shares traded on March 25, the highest this year. The Big Board tape ran one minute late at the close.

Declining issues led advances by about a 3-1 margin.

The Dow average, the most closely watched stock price-change indicator, has lost over 340 points during the past 17 months. Monday's 20 point loss was the average's biggest since President Kennedy's assassination. On that day, Nov. 22, 1963, the average plunged 21.16.

Over 36 percent has been knocked off the Dow average since it hit a closing peak of 985.21 on Dec. 3, 1968. It lost 1.59 percent during Tuesday's session. During the 33-month disaster period from 1929 to 1932 the average was cut back about 85 percent.

The big question now facing investors is how low can prices go?

Some market analysts claim there has been a loss of confidence in the economy and in the Nixon administration's ability to resolve the war in Indochina. In an apparent effort to restore faith, the White House announced President Nixon would meet with 60 to 100 financial and business leaders Wednesday night to discuss the economy and the reasons for the U.S. move into Cambodia.

The session follows a meeting last week in Washington between the President and Bernard Lasker, chairman of the New York Stock Exchange.

Other analysts take a more technical view. They say the market can only sink so much before investors will feel compelled to rush in to buy at exceptionally low prices.

"How long it will be before the market bottoms, I don't know," said Monte Gordon, vice president of the New York brokerage firm of Bache & Co. "But it's reasonable to assume that the down market is moving toward the end of the road."

Conservative Party Pledges Arms Control

LONDON (AP) — The Conservative party, seeking to recapture power in next month's elections, pledged Tuesday to halt Britain's military withdrawal from east of Suez and said the nation must retain control of its nuclear arsenal.

The promises were laid down in the party's electoral platform—a manifesto called "A Better Tomorrow"—that was presented at a news conference by the party's leader, Edward Heath.

The party also called for tighter curbs on colored immigration, stringent measures on law and order to deal with offenses "peculiar to the age of demonstration and disruption" and sweeping moves to reform trade unions and halt wildcat strikes.

Keynote of the manifesto was the Tory intention to abolish tax, price and collective bargaining restrictions on trade and industry set up by Prime Minister Harold Wilson's Labor government and replace them with "conservative incentives."

Heath, who wrote the document, promised a new style of government in which civil servants and the managers of trade and industry will be consulted on legislation before it is sent to Parliament.

Nixon Justifies Thrust

ROME (AP) — President Nixon declared Tuesday that the U.S. thrust into Cambodia is necessary "in order that both Vietnamization and withdrawal of U.S. forces may proceed."

"We still prefer to end this war by negotiation," Nixon said in a letter read by Secretary of State William P. Rogers at the opening session of the North Atlantic Council.

"However, I am convinced we will not have serious discussions, so long as the enemy believes that he can ignore our warnings and reject our flexible proposals for a settlement. We are not increasing our demands."

Nixon's letter, addressed to Manlio Brosio, secretary-general of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization—NATO—pledged anew to pull 150,000 American troops out of Vietnam by the spring of 1971, even if the enemy continues to block a negotiated peace.

Nixon declared that the American operation in Cambodia was safeguarding the withdrawal program.

Of American operations in Cambodia, Nixon said most of the main objectives have been achieved.

"Our principal target is not personnel, but the enemy's logistical infrastructure," he said. "In the operations to date, the quantities of weapons and materials captured exceed expectations and are far larger than those seized in comparable operations in South Vietnam in past years."

Nixon said the amount of arms captured was big enough to equip 30 battalions of 300-500 men each.

Foreign ministers listened to Rogers in silence. Some said privately they were mystified by Nixon's expression of appreciation "for the understanding and support" which NATO countries have shown toward U.S. actions.

Leading allied governments including Britain, France and West Germany have either criticized the U.S. intervention or withheld backing.

"The only support of Nixon's letter and Rogers' remarks came from Dutch Foreign Minister Josef Luns during council discussions."

Luns said there had not been normal consultation among NATO allies before the U.S. action in Cambodia. But he added that the thrust has strengthened American credibility.

In a survey of the international scene, Rogers warned that war dangers and instability are mounting in the Mideast. He attributed this to deepening Soviet military involvement in the area and the escalating Arab-Israeli conflict.

Rogers said the deteriorating situation has compelled the United States to undertake a major review of all aspects of the Mideastern crisis.

This appraisal includes reconsideration of Israel's request for more Phantom and Skyhawk planes.

The Americans withheld last March a decision to supply more planes to Israel, hoping to introduce an element of big power restraint into the situation. Moscow's only response was to beef up air power in the region.

Battle Inside Cambodia Fight At Four Points

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. infantrymen battled enemy forces at four points around the Cambodian town of Mimot Tuesday, and South Vietnamese mauled a Viet Cong battalion 40 miles westward.

It marked the third straight day the Americans have run into increased enemy attacks in Cambodia's Fishhook border region north of Saigon.

"We're getting a lot of resistance in there," said a U.S. officer. "The enemy isn't standing and fighting, but he's getting more aggressive. Of course he knows where we are and it seems he's out to harass us."

The action began before dawn with an assault against troops of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division dug in two miles north of Mimot, a rubber plantation town about seven miles inside the border.

Six Americans were killed and 25 wounded in the attack which lasted an hour until American helicopter gunships and artillery drove back the attackers. The only known enemy casualty was one killed.

Later reports from the field said three companies of the 25th Division clashed with the enemy at points five miles southwest, five miles northwest and about eight miles west of Mimot, which lies 83 miles northwest of Saigon.

Artillery, fighter-bombers and rocket-firing helicopters pounded the enemy positions. In each case the enemy withdrew at dark with unknown losses, reports said. U.S. casualties were described as light.

In the action 40 miles west of Mimot, South Vietnamese backed up by fighter-bombers, reported killing 98 Viet Cong in a battalion south of the Chup rubber plantation, biggest in Indochina. Government losses were placed at three killed and 17 wounded.

The Chup plantation was seized last Saturday by a South Vietnamese task force. Allied troops turned up still more enemy stockpiles of weapons, ammunition, vehicles, medical supplies and food.

Troops of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division reported finding more than 100,000 feet of plastic explosive at one cache six miles inside Cambodia and about 50 miles northeast of Mimot.

At another nearby site, about 40 tons of rice was found stored in five tents and was destroyed by air strikes, reports said.

So far in the Cambodian offensive, the allies claim to have captured or destroyed 15,484 weapons, more than 1,000 tons of ammunition—including nearly 14,000 rounds of rockets and mortars—and more than 5,000 tons of rice and other foodstuffs.

The offensive has claimed the lives of 216 Americans, and 807 have been wounded. Revised figures show 504 South Vietnamese troops killed and 2,173 wounded. The allies claim to have killed 9,236 enemy troops and captured 1,225. The offensive is being conducted along a 600-mile stretch of border with South Vietnam, from north of Saigon to the Gulf of Siam.

South Vietnamese headquarters announced the windup of a 16,000-man operation in southern Cambodia. Spokesmen said 710 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong had been killed in the eighty-day westward sweep from the Mekong Delta while 44 government troops were killed and 144 wounded.

Spokesmen said the government forces had returned to South Vietnam to rest and replace supplies.

In South Vietnam, seven U.S. paratroopers were killed and seven wounded in an apparent ambush on the Binh Dinh coastal plain. Thirteen of the enemy were killed.

U.S. B52 bombers kept up their heavy attacks in the northernmost provinces of South Vietnam to counter a new North Vietnamese buildup. The enemy shelled 41 allied positions overnight, wounding 24 Americans. The attacks also killed three Vietnamese and wounded four, according to incomplete reports.

Lebanon Considers Military Aid Plea

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Israeli troops marched into Lebanon Tuesday for the second straight day in a search for Arab guerrillas who have attacked Israeli settlements along the border.

But the Israeli military command in Tel Aviv refused to give details and declined to say whether Israeli troops were still in Lebanon or had pulled back into Israel. There were no reported clashes between the Israelis and Lebanese troops or guerrillas.

Premier Rashid Karami of Lebanon told Parliament in Beirut that his Cabinet would decide Wednesday whether to ask for troops from Morocco and Tunisia to help defend Lebanon against Israeli attacks.

Proposals would be presented to Parliament for its approval on Thursday, he said. Parliament must give its consent to the stationing of foreign troops on Lebanese soil.

Prime Minister Golda Meir of Israel told Parliament in Jerusalem that Soviet involvement in Egypt had reached "an advanced and dangerous stage."

Any delay in selling arms to Israel would cause "irreparable damage," she said.

In a major policy speech, Mrs. Meir said Israel had to prevent the Russians setting up sophisticated SAM3 missiles in the Suez Canal zone.

Israel has been trying without success to get more U.S. warplanes.

Twenty SAM3 missile bases have been set up in Egypt since last December, she said.

Maj. Gen. Mordechai Gur, Israel's northern area commander, told newsmen that the patrolling activity would continue along the entire length of the border with Lebanon at his discretion.

The current operation began Friday, he said. This was the day guerrillas attacked an Israeli school bus killing 12 persons, including eight children.

Two Israeli patrols were operating in Lebanese territory Tuesday. One was on the heights of Mt. Aviram, opposite the settlement of Malkiyya and overlooking several Israeli villages.

Newsmen could see soldiers on the summit of the hill.

The second patrol was operating near Aitroun, opposite the Israeli town of Aviram, near where guerrillas attacked the school bus.

Gur said the patrols were small and no tanks were involved. But correspondents in the area said they saw four tanks move into Lebanon Tuesday accompanied by two units of between 10 and 15 soldiers.

The Israelis Monday sent four tanks into Lebanon along with 28 soldiers in the first announced police action since the school bus ambush.

In the air way, Israeli planes were in action over the Suez Canal Zone, hitting at Egyptian military targets for 35 minutes, said the Israeli spokesman. All the planes returned safely, he added.

Cairo radio quoted a military spokesman who claimed the raiding jets were driven off by anti-aircraft fire and there were no casualties or damage.

Zeal Is Fine But 'Cool' Is Need Now

In a letter to the Record-Courier of Kent-Ravenna, Ohio, three assistant professors of English and one professor of library science at Kent State University roundly castigate the newspaper for having attacked student hooliganism in an editorial.

Those who should be denounced, write the professors, "are not the handful of militant radicals who burned down an ROTC timbered but the warlords who have ordered and still order now the burning down of entire countries. You should be denouncing the barbaric leaders who seem to have dedicated themselves to suppressing the blacks and eradicating the Panthers, and you should be denouncing the magnates who are corrupting the country side with their industrial filth."

The four slain students were "murdered by proxy," they declare, not by skittish National Guardsmen "but by a burgeoning fascist regime, preoccupied with self-aggrandizement and profit, that emanates from Washington and is generally infecting the rest of the country."

Just getting warmed up, the professors go on to indict the "imperialistic racist insanity that is prevailing in America," "the insensate brutality of current American policies" and the "quasi patriots who are leading the country straight down the road to hell."

Space permits more excerpts from this somewhat less than tightly reasoned document, but stomach does not. It must be noted, however, that the professors did not forget to accuse the newspaper editors of "cant," "inflammatory half-truths," "political propaganda" and "pat cliches."

Now, it is intensely exhilarating to be consumed with the burning fire of righteous zeal. The only trouble with that feeling, however, is that it is dangerous fuel on which to try to run a country.

Certainly zeal was amply demonstrated by New York construction workers in their bloody disruption of a peaceful antiwar rally in Wall Street a few days ago.

America's students are motivated by "a sense of impotence and rage and frustration," say the professors. What do they think motivated the construction workers if not the very same emotions—impotence at seeing youths who have been given advantages they never had destroying the schools their taxes have built; rage at seeing the nation's flag dragged in the mud; frustration at seeing students apparently getting away with anything they want to do.

Unfortunately, the attack had all the earmarks of the kind of "putsch" made famous by Adolph Hitler's Brownshirts. Yet what the workers did is merely the other side of the coin cast by those who first turned to violence—not the violence of acts alone but the violence of words, like "barbaric leaders," "fascistic regime."

One can imagine what the reaction of the professors would have been had President Nixon announced an immediate withdrawal of all U.S. troops from Vietnam and, as a result misguided but sincere right-wing radicals had protested his "betrayal" of the national honor by burning down the Kent State English department.

They would have been the first to holler: Police! National Guard: Stop these bums!

And they would have been right. It is time to cease indulging our various rages and frustrations, before the "handful of militant radicals" becomes a majority—on both sides.

It is time to recognize that no one has a corner on either righteousness or evil, and to concede to others, including our elected leaders, at least a modicum of the same basic decency and humanity we readily accord to ourselves.

Those whose profession is the teaching of the proper use of the native tongue and an appreciation of the heights reached in it by great writers and thinkers of the present and past, could do much to foster this process.

Demo Party Reform Efforts Watched Warily

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF

AP Political Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic party reformers will be warily watching a special committee's efforts to implement the 18 guidelines set by the McGovern Commission for selecting convention delegates.

The ad hoc group's work with the states is an effort to avoid a repetition in 1972 of the widespread charges in the Chicago convention two years ago that delegate selections often were undemocratic and unresponsive to the views of many party members.

Neither major party has ever undertaken such a widespread reform effort, one made more difficult by the complexities of applying basic principles to widely differing procedures in the 50 states.

National Democratic Chairman Lawrence F. O'Brien has gone out of his way to assure reformers the new committee is designed to further, not dilute, the reform effort. The first reaction of Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., the commission chairman, is to agree.

But uncertainties remain, specifically in two areas:

—Possible conflict between the committee and the commission in interpreting how the guidelines would apply in a given state.

—The possibility the ad hoc group would recommend against applying some or all of the guidelines to the 1972 convention.

Although O'Brien stressed the committee was created "solely for the purpose of speeding the implementation of the guidelines," an internal party memorandum prepared for him said the panel also would be involved in "interpretation of the McGovern Commission's report."

The inevitable question is: If a party in a state needed an interpretation, would it go to the McGovern Commission or to the ad hoc committee?

O'Brien also said in his week-end letter to McGovern the ad hoc group has "no power to alter or dilute or in any way veto the guidelines."

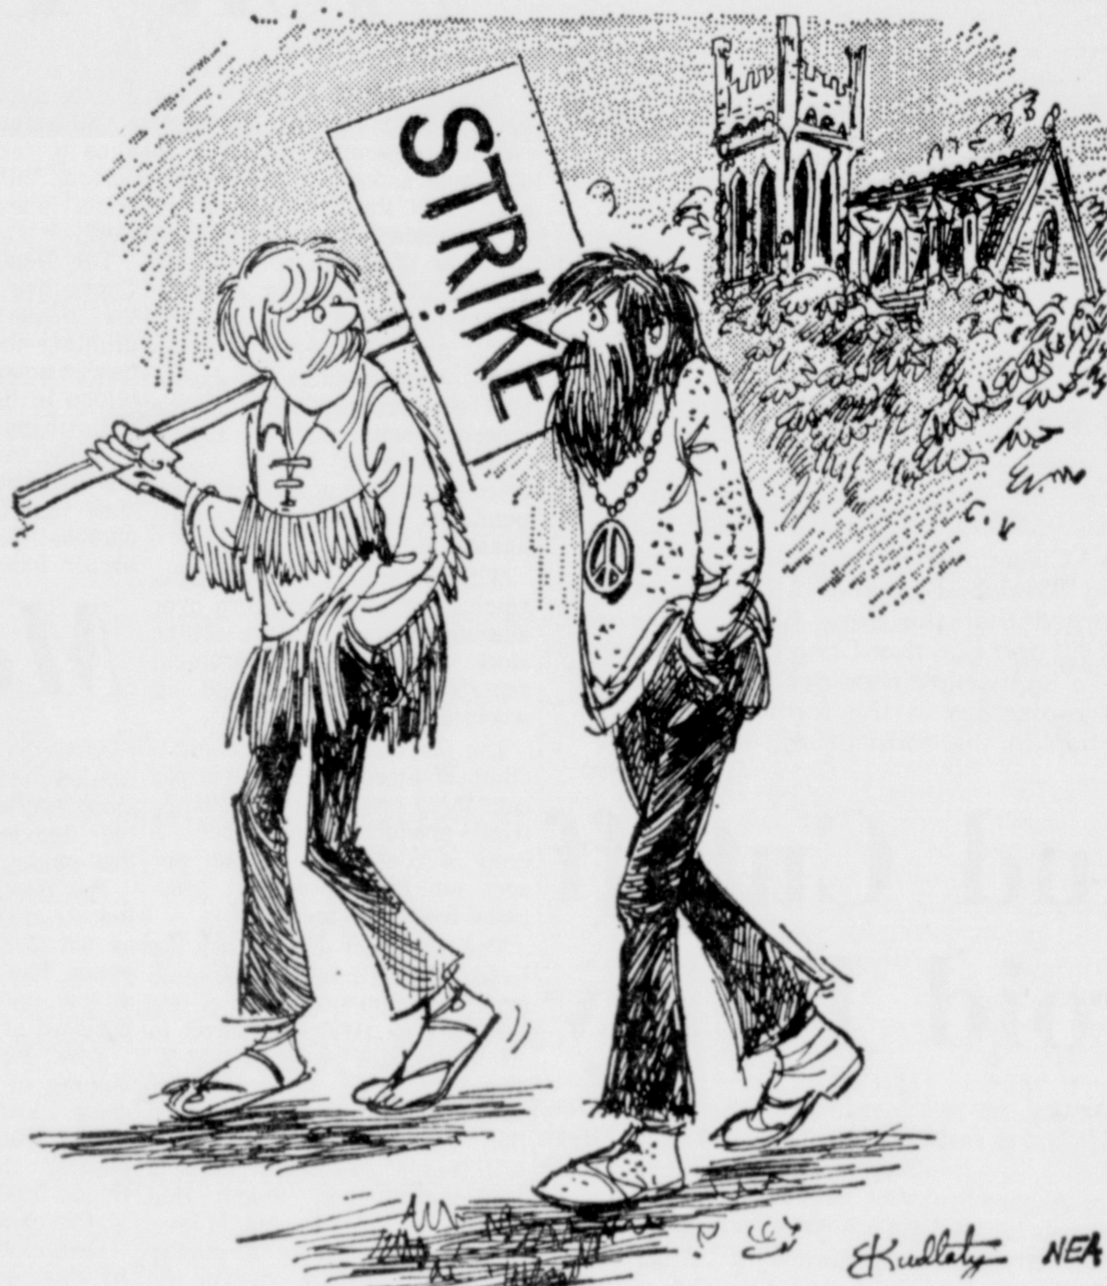

But party leaders say it does have the authority, as does the national committee, to recommend to the credentials committee which of the guidelines would be included in the 1972 convention call.

McGovern promptly called upon the committee to recommend "the commission guidelines be added intact to the call to the 1972 convention, while recognizing that, by doing so no new legal sanctions would be added."

A third problem could result from the makeup of the ad hoc group, all members of the National Committee which tends to represent the party establishment, in many states antagonistic or indifferent to the reform effort.

It could thus become the center for those elements in the party who feel the McGovern group went too far and wish to slow or reverse the reform drive.

Student Involved But Level-Headed

By BRUCE BIOSSAT
NEA Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON (NEA)—While the nation's young destroyers in high school and college are busy smashing buildings, burning books and some scholars' lifetime researches, and screaming their lungs out, I am going to talk about a lad of 16 who makes them all look like the mindless fools they are.

This boy also puts to shame the countless soft-headed liberals, especially in what is generously termed the "academic community," who either openly sympathize with the violence of the young marauders or do not have the guts to speak up and assert standards of discipline, of law, of genuine morality and regard for human rights.

The young man I have in mind, is supremely, an individual. And he did not become that by retreating from the overorganized world he finds himself in but by plunging into it.

For at least the last seven years he has been a champion athlete. He is an honor scholar and more than four years ago was reading books at the rate of about 100 a year.

With two years to go before moving into college, he is presently studying Latin, a marvelous discipline largely shunned by today's allegedly "best-educated" generation of students, and wants to dig into Greek, another tough one.

Not content with the studies at his own school, he goes twice a week to night classes at a city university to study Spanish along with students generally two or three years older than he is. He is more than holding his own.

He has understood for a long time the wonder of having a mind and developing it to the fullest. He sees no value in traveling in packs down the street, even if they are peaceful. He sees nothing "activist" about the shouted slogan or the waving placard. Talk alone, however loud and insistent, is not for him.

Properly aroused like many another American by the engulfing problem of pollution, he recently called his city's department concerned with the problem and offered his services. One day a week, after school, he goes down to that office and helps out. He does not think what he is doing there has much real bite to it, but you can bet he will find a way to do more somehow, somewhere.

Population control is another of his big personal concerns. Again, he wants to act. He has not yet figured out how to contribute something on this score, but he is busy looking.

When he looks, he looks everywhere. He erects no senseless barriers that cut him off from the accumulated wisdom of living persons "over 30."

or the wisdom of the ages gone before. He has no patience with the juvenile nonsense which defines the "relevant" as only that which is happening now or limits history to the events of merely the past few years.

Recently he spent an evening with his 86-year-old grandmother a thousand miles from his own home. She remarks upon his intense curiosity about her and her ideas.

When he was 12, he questioned me one evening for an hour or more about the nature and working of my business. His inquiries were keener and more perceptive than any I have had either from other young people or from 90 per cent of the adults who have showed any interest at all.

He is a hard, day-long worker in an age when thousands of young alibi artists try to demean the "work ethic" to excuse their love of total ease—which they interrupt only periodically with ceremonies of violence they fraudulently characterize as "activism" and "dissent." They have tried, in vain, to transform worklessness into an idealistic faith, into a kind of magic that will make over the world in a flashing instant.

Ann Landers:

Men's Ills Blamed On Women

Dear Ann Landers: I see where a government analyst is compiling an unofficial report concluding what most men already believe—that women are to blame for whatever ails men. Mr. Phon E. Hudkins (his REAL name), an attorney and economist in the Manpower Administration, says he has documented evidence that female domination causes schizophrenia, diabetes, paranoia, colds, headaches, suicide, alcoholism, homosexuality, cancer, arthritis, and sterility. Mr. Hudkins has supporting material from psychiatrists, sociologists, lawyers and anthropologists.

My husband read me the report right out of a newspaper, and I was horrified to think that a government employee in good standing would put out such rubbish.

Do you know anything about this man? What do you think of his statements?—Stunned in Stamford

Dear Stunned: The man is 36, unmarried and he earns $17,000 a year. While some of his allegations contain a shred of validity, he goes off the deep end and drowns in uncharted waters. Homosexuality and alcoholism among males might well be caused by a domineering mother; but when Mr. Hudkins starts blaming women for cancer, arthritis and diabetes, he's going too far. Moreover, for every woman who gives a man a headache, a cold, or worse, there's a man who has done the same to some woman. I do not believe that one sex suffers more at the hands of the other.

Dear Ann Landers: Our only child is a bright, beautiful little girl, two years of age. Joyce has wonderful manners. My husband and I treat her like an adult, which is why she is so precocious. When we entertain guests, we always seat her at the table. She stays up until she asks to go to bed.

When we go visiting, we take Joyce with us. She is toilet trained and eats everything. Nobody has ever objected—in fact, people seem to enjoy having her around.

Yesterday a friend said something that upset me terribly. She invited us to dinner next week and added, "Please don't bring Joyce." I was dumbfounded when she blurted out, "I've heard a lot of criticism because you drag that child everywhere."

I am hurt and don't know what to think of her remark. Why should a woman be so spiteful?—Monterey, Calif.

Dear Monterey: I don't believe the woman was spiteful. I think she was telling you something you needed to hear. Parents do their young children no favor when they take them everywhere. A two-year-old does not belong everywhere. If you wish to seat Joyce at your dinner table when guests are present, fine—but you should not impose her on others. Consider the woman's comment an act of friendship and learn from it.

Dear Ann Landers: If a girl punches a guy in the mouth for no reason, is it O.K. to punch her back? The kid who got punched is one of the grooviest guys ever. We hope you'll say yes because he let her have it right in the kisser and we think he did the right thing. What do you say?—Palestine, Texas

Dear Pal: When a guy (no matter how groovy) gets punched in the mouth, there's usually a reason. Let's assume, however, that he was completely innocent. It was still wrong to punch her back. Gentlemen are not supposed to hit ladies. Better he should have taken the chick home and fed her telephone number to the nearest goat.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Dr. David Livingstone was a Scottish missionary and explorer. The World Almanac says Henry M. Stanley, a correspondent for the New York Herald, was sent to Africa "to go and find Livingstone," from whom no word had come in two years. Stanley located him Nov. 10, 1871, at Ujiji, introducing himself with the greeting, "Dr. Livingstone, I presume?" The doctor died May 1, 1873, after about 33 years service in Africa.

Law For Today

Q. Five months ago I canceled a subscription for books from a company whose sales agreement gave me the right to do so after the first purchase. Since then I received another shipment of books. Am I correct in assuming I'm under no legal obligation except possibly to return these volumes?

A. That's correct as long as you've satisfied the terms of the contract. Generally, Illinois law states that unsolicited merchandise may be considered as a gift, and that therefore the recipient may use or dispose of it as he wishes. However, in cases where there were prior dealings with the seller, the recipient of the goods should return them with a certified letter re-stating that he has cancelled the contract. As an added precaution, he should request a written acknowledgement of the cancellation.

Thou dost show me the path of life; in thy presence there is fulness of joy, in thy right hand are pleasures for evermore—Psalms 16:11.

YOUR BIRTHDAY AND HOROSCOPE

WEDNESDAY, MAY 27 — Born today, you are one of those persons whose star seems always to be in the ascendancy. Always looking ahead to better things, to worthier enterprises, more satisfying results, better relationships, more outstanding ideas, you are willing to let bygones be bygones as you step into an ever-widening circle of future activities. A hard worker, and a willing one, you are not one to turn over your responsibilities to another—but neither will you turn over any glory.

You are an easy person to get along with even though you are at times demanding when it comes to your own and others' performance of duty. You are not one to tolerate any shirking of duty; on the other hand, you are understanding and entirely sympathetic to the difficulties which may cause results to be less than they might be. You have ambition for success—but you do not put success above individuality or personality.

When it comes to affairs of the heart, you are inclined to be somewhat less than stable. You enter into affectionate relationships easily; you also, however, step out of them just as easily. Ultimately, however, you are destined to meet someone from whom you will find it impossible to extricate yourself without real hurt—and this is the time to consider marriage. To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Thursday, May 28
GEMINI (May 22-June 21) — Rationalization is your best friend during difficult hours when emotionalism tries to get the best of you.

CANCER (June 22-July 23) — Surprises in store for the Cancer who gives in to an urge to influence another in the way he should go. Advise the young.

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23) — Romance and Leo form a successful partnership today. Take care, however, not to take yourself too seriously.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23) — Welcome another with an outstanding personality. You will soon know the value of character over financial success.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23) — Though you will probably get a relatively late start on the day's chores, evening should put you well ahead of the game.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) — You should make it a point to be in the vanguard of the action this morning. Afternoon hours bring relief from tension.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22) — Time now to consider furthering your training. Advancement on the employment scene should not be long in coming.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20) — Make every effort to keep the peace on the homefront. If things are upset at home, things will not go well on the employment scene.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19) — Reconsider your recent decisions regarding younger family members. You may have to change your plans completely and quickly.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 21) — An attraction-repulsion complex regarding a loved one's suggestion about the future keeps you undecided. Take things as easy as you can.

ARIES (March 22-April 20) — Offer another the benefit of your services and you will not be disappointed at the ultimate results. A good day.

TAURUS (April 21-May 21) — Consider a brief study of the habits of one who is extremely successful in your field. You might take a leaf out of his or her book.

WEBSTER DEGREE TO LYNN OLSON
Lynn Olson was among the 301 students who received degrees at graduation ceremonies May 16 at Webster College, St. Louis, Mo. She received a bachelor of arts degree in history. Lynn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roderick C. Olson, 1430 West Lafayette, Jacksonville.

HELEN ANKROM IS AUGUSTANA GRAD
ROCK ISLAND — Augustana College conferred degrees on 324 seniors at the 110th commencement convocation Sunday, May 24, in Centennial Hall. Receiving a bachelor of arts degree was Miss Helen F. Ankrom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Ankrom, RFD, Jacksonville.

Remedies Offered For Venting Anger

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — How do you get rid of your anger?

You can't just keep it bottled up and go on smiling like a painted face on a punching bag. Psychiatrists say that if you do your stomach may become as mottled with ulcers as if you had inside measles. Whatever is bothering you has to be expressed somehow.

On the other hand, you can't just shout aloud your annoyance or irritation at the things about life which vex you. To do this only embarrasses yourself, troubles your friends, and pleases your enemies.

But how can you get rid of your pent-up spleen without making a public display of your temper? An old man once told me his secret:

"When you get too grouchy to live with yourself, write down on a piece of paper a list of the things that bother you. That'll get them out of your system. Read the list over five times, then take a match and burn it up. You can't help but feel better."

I think I'll give his system a try. Here, on a rainy day in May, are one man's pet peeves and momentary discontents:

All forms of government which require a citizen to fill out government forms.

Guys who have to put an arm around your shoulders before whispering an off-color joke in your ear.

People who tell you something for your own good—but which leaves you feeling bad and them virtuous.

Airline hostesses who will give you five drinks of coffee, tea or milk but only two drinks of anything that will actually help you get over your fear of flying.

Secretaries who exchange racy office gossip at the next company cafeteria table in voices so low you can't quite overhear them.

Girls with wobbly ankles and adenoids who pronounce tomato "toe-MAHHH-toe" and plaza "PLAWWWHHH-zuh."

Anything that gums up a $750 set of dentures.

Girls who tell a fellow he'd look cute with long sideburns when they know darned well that if he did let them grow they'd come out white.

Teen-agers who think it's groovy to listen to a new rock 'n' roll record over and over again until its grooves become ruts.

Anybody who brags he keeps a gun in his house—"just in case."

People who are bravely able to endure your disasters and seek to console you by saying, "Well, after all, in the end it may turn out for the best."

After losing five pounds as a result of 10 weeks of spartan dieting, being told by an acquaintance, "Better do something about that pot—it's getting bigger again."

Anybody who wants to improve the world but doesn't think he himself needs any improving whatsoever.

The price of anything worth having compared to the price it was just a year ago.

Henry Clay, American statesman, is sometimes called the "Apostle of Liberty."

Preparation For Telecast Provides Insight Into Workings Of President

By HARRY F. ROSENTHAL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — It is 9:45 on a warm Friday evening and the White House is swaddled in lights. Outside its gates, in restless procession, come the first of the thousands massing in the capital to proclaim dismay about Cambodia, Vietnam and Kent State.

Inside, wearing a blue suit and light television makeup, Richard Nixon waits in the Red Room, preparing to face reporters and a TV audience of 56 million in the 10th formal press conference of his presidency.

It is the events of the week, the welling up of dissent that followed his Cambodian decision, that prompted this news conference. Much has gone into Nixon's preparation for it.

At 10 p.m. Nixon strides into the glittering East Room, appearing tense and apprehensive. He knows that this night, the questions will be tough.

And they are, from the very start.

"Mr. President, have you been surprised by the intensity of the protest of YOUR decision to send troops into Cambodia . . . Mr. President, do you believe that YOU can open up meaningful communications with this college age generation and how . . . Mr. President, what do YOU think the students are trying to say?"

Nixon rocks forward slightly. He looks directly at his questioner, hands clasped tightly behind as though he were supporting himself on an invisible rail. His voice sounds husky and has a slight quaver.

The answers are fluent and the sentences parse. None of the questions surprise him. Each had been anticipated by his staff and posed in memos the President has been studying for two days.

Nixon is not at his best in small talk with strangers, but he's a pro when it comes to speeches and press conferences. He crams for them like a lawyer about to argue a case before the Supreme Court. The emphasis is on detailed planning.

Nixon chose to make his Cambodian decision known with a televised speech on April 30, and to respond to the criticism in the press conference on May 8.

How he went about it, provides a good insight into the workings of the 37th President.

He began to think about the scope of the Cambodian speech, formulating ideas, on April 22 after meeting with the National Security Council.

"He called for option papers," says an aide. "That weekend he went to Camp David. Henry Kissinger flew there on Saturday with various options." Kissinger is the President's top assistant for security affairs.

On the presidential yacht the next day and later with the NSC, Nixon discussed the Cambodian situation again.

"The decision to execute was made on Tuesday the 28th," the aide says. "He had to make it then to get started on United States support for the South Vietnamese, to get troops deployed."

Once the decision had been reached, Nixon went into seclusion. In the Executive Office Building next door to the White House—in a large room filled with official gifts and various little elephant statues—the President started dictating into a machine, referring occasionally to a list of major points drawn up by Kissinger.

He'd sit there in a gold-cloth covered chair, feet up on an ottoman, tapping on the arms with his reading glasses, dictating, occasionally wandering across the street to work in the sunny rose garden.

This time, the yellow legal pads he prefers were used only for the changes he'd make as each successive draft was typed by Rose Mary Woods, his personal secretary.

She knows the way he likes to "see" a speech, and carefully puts each important phrase on a separate line.

"It was dictate, look, think, talk," says the aide. "On Wednesday he went to bed after midnight and got up at 5. He dictated awhile and went back to bed."

The draft he delivered that night was the eighth—and each word was his own. Nixon wrote his own speeches than any president since Woodrow Wilson.

This is not to say that he hides his speechwriters, as Harry S. Truman did with Clark Clifford and Dwight Eisenhower with Bryce Harlow. But the biggest speeches of his life—the acceptance speech in Miami Beach and the inauguration speech—were pure Nixon.

William Safire, one of the three speechwriters, says Nixon is a considerate man to work for because he's a speechwriter himself. But he's also a bug on accuracy.

Safire saw the Cambodia speech a half hour before the President went on the air. In it was a reference that he was speaking from the room where Woodrow Wilson wrote of the "war to end wars."

"I'm a student on the derivation of political phrases," says Safire, who wrote a book on the subject. "I knew Wilson was closely associated with the phrase, but nobody ever saw him actually write it."

Card of Thanks

My sincere thanks to my Doctor, nurses, friends, relatives and minister for their visits, flowers and cards, while I was in Passavant Hospital.

Lucy DeGroot

"Here the President was about to go on the air with an important speech and I remember this nitpicking item. I debated with myself for a minute, then went over to the Executive Office Building and said 'Excuse me, Mr. President. Probably nobody will notice, but we haven't been able to prove Wilson wrote that.'"

Nixon asked whether the text had been released, Safire said it had. The President said he would think about it.

When he got to that part on the air, Nixon changed the wording to "in this room, Woodrow Wilson made the great decisions which led to victory in World War I."

Not only is the President a good speechwriter, he's also a cool performer. Both cameras used for the Cambodia speech went on the blink just before air time.

"In a few minutes, if this keeps up, we're going to do a radio show," TV advisor Roger Ailes told the President. Nixon laughed and asked, "Can anything else go wrong today?"

The speech started with one camera, and midway through the second came on. There was nothing to indicate production problems to the viewer.

Patrick Buchanan, who moonlights on some of Vice President Spiro Agnew's speeches, is considered the conservative on the Nixon speechwriting team and Pat Price is the liberal. Safire describes himself as "a centrist and opportunist."

"Sometimes the President will have the liberal do the conservative speech, sometimes the conservative will do the liberal speech," Safire says. On the welfare reform speech, a major point was to emphasize that, in order to receive federal money, a recipient would have to be willing to take a job or job training. That speech was handed to Buchanan, the conservative.

"We may give the President two pages and he'll use one line," Safire says. "I drafted the radio speech on inflation. He had said 'I want a speech for the housewives.' I sat down with Arthur F. Burns and Paul McCracken (the chairman of the Federal Reserve Board and the Council of Economic Advisers) and wrote a speech. He said, 'That's not what I wanted,' and outlined what he did want."

The President, Safire says, always explains what, if anything, he finds wrong with a speech. "After a speech is over," Safire says, "I'll get two calls. One is from my mother, the other is from the President."

In preparing for news conferences, the speechwriters submit memos for the President on what questions are likely to be asked—and they are in question form, right down to the "Sir" that begins such questions. These memos also come from departments and agencies throughout the government and are finally drawn together by Buchanan.

With each question is the answer, taking less than one page. But never does the President answer exactly as it's put down.

In the May 8 news conference, for instance, Nixon was asked about unemployment hitting the 4.8 percentage point. Nixon answered, "In order to keep it in perspective, it should be noted that in 1961, 1962, 1963, 1964 and 1965 the average unemployment was 5.7." The figures had been researched in advance by the speechwriters, but the President rephrased and expanded on the memo.

The President got a laugh from his audience—and joined in himself—when he was asked about the now-famous letter from Interior Secretary Walter Hickel. Nixon mentioned he had picked Hickel because he was outspoken and courageous and added that the leaked letter "was the fastest mail delivery I have had since I have been in the White House."

Nixon had made that crack earlier and the memo-writers picked it up, incorporating it in their briefing forms.

The President flew to Camp David with the memos the day before the news conference and stayed there until a few hours before air time. His aides all agree that he has a memory that approaches the photographic. If he's given a five-point answer, he remembers all five points.

Such homework stands him in good stead. But every once in a while, even a corporation lawyer gets caught with his memory down.

On the presidential campaign, Nixon was in the Midwest, fielding questions and honing the stand-up-without-rostrum technique he uses as President.

"How do you feel about fire ants?" a would-be supporter asked him. "You got me there," the candidate replied.

Suharto Calls For Withdrawal From Cambodia

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Suharto of Indonesia, saying "we cannot afford just to wait for the sake of peace and stability in Southeast Asia" called Tuesday night for the withdrawal of all foreign forces from Cambodia.

In remarks prepared for a toast to President Nixon at a White House state banquet, the 48-year-old Indonesian leader declared "all efforts should be taken to prevent the war from widening and to ensure the preservation of Cambodia's right to sovereignty and neutrality."

In Asia, he said, "instead of the peace we had hoped for, the threat of a new war is spreading."

Suharto noted that as a non-aligned state which pursues an independent and active foreign policy, Indonesia took the initiative to convene a conference of foreign ministers of Asian countries. He said the conference which ended some ten days ago had taken a clear and appropriate stand on the Cambodia issue.

"The nations of Asia have started to take it upon themselves to meet the challenges that Asia faces today," he said. But Suharto said the problems are universal and could not be solved piecemeal but only by international action.

President Nixon already had assured Suharto that the United States will participate in any conference of Asian nations and interested world powers convened to work out a nonmilitary solution to conflict in Indochina.

U.S. sources said the assurance was given during a 90-minute meeting between the two presidents and a concurrent White House conference of officials headed by Indonesia's Foreign Minister Adam Malik and Deputy Undersecretary of State Elliot Richards.

At a state luncheon given by Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, the Indonesian leader declared "all countries share a common responsibility to safeguard peace without one state being the protector of another."

Moon Rock May Provide Key To Universe Origin

SPACE CENTER, Houston, Tex. (AP) — A lemon-sized moon rock said to be older than any rock discovered previously may provide invaluable clues to scientists' search for the origin of the universe, space officials said Tuesday.

Officials said the rock "has an apparent age of 4.6 billion years, clearly the oldest rock found on the moon."

A geophysicist said a rock 4.6 billion years old would be older than any rock ever examined before, but noted that meteorites are sometimes found to be 4.5 to 4.6 billion years old.

The ancient rock from the Apollo 12 samples, he said, "was part of the moon very definitely," meaning not a meteorite.

The rock, which weighs 83 grams (about three ounces) was found to have 20 times more uranium, thorium and potassium than any other lunar rock previously examined. No harmful radiation emissions were detected.

Reorganization Of Post Office Given Boost

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate committee voted Tuesday for a reorganization of the postal service and an 8 per cent pay raise for postal workers but shunted aside President Nixon's plea for a $1.5 billion increase in postal rates.

Under the bill, the Post Office Department would be replaced by an independent U.S. Postal Service run by a board of governors appointed by the President subject to confirmation by the Senate.

Chairman Gale W. McGee, D-Wyo., said all 12 members of the Senate Post Office and Civil Service Committee except Sen. Ralph W. Yarborough, D-Tex., approved the legislation. It differs in several respects from a bill previously approved by the corresponding House committee.

Ambuces Plan Indoctrination On Wednesday

Seasoned members and newcomers of the Ambuces will be versed on American Business club protocol at the Indoctrination program planned for the group at Wednesday's luncheon session at Holiday Inn. Larry Schmaljohn will be presiding Wednesday.

Last week's program was by Charles Cox, General Telephone Co. employee, who told about the establishment of a school in Hawaii for mentally retarded children. There were 27 members and three guests present. The latter group included Nelson Spaenhuizer with American Union Life Insurance Co., Ken Hileman; Ted Harrison of Phillips 66 with Buford Green; and Waldo Ball, regional director for Ambucs.

During the past week Ambucs helped sponsor the Phillips 66 Pitch, Hit and Throw and participated in a Slo-Pitch Softball league game, YMCA, with the Lions club, the latter victors to the tune of 24-19. One casualty resulted when Dick Smith broke a finger.

At last week's meeting Ron Stucker received his spurs and stars to add to his Big Hat status; Don Mayes received $14 in the 50-50 drawing; and the attendance prize went begging when Al Andrews failed to claim.

The club's stock of tickets for Jacksonville Night at Busch Stadium is being sold by three members, Ron Stucker, Bob Moss and Don Snumaker. These are the men to see for tickets. Bud Mohnen is in charge of Ambuc volunteers for the Illinois State Fair project.

"Lion's Share"

An old story from Aesop's Fables tells about the lion that hunted with the fox and wolf and then claimed two-thirds of the game. From this comes the expression, "the lion's share."

Business Mirror

By CAROLE MARTIN
AP Business Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Most people think of a vice president as the No. 2 man in an organization. But you must really have to try harder if you're a V.P. at a place like Bankers Trust Co. in New York.

Bankers Trust boasts what has to be one of the longest lists of vice presidents of any corporate entity in the country — it includes nearly 300 names.

Why would any management setup include 300 vice presidents?

"During the past 10 years banks have tended to decentralize and their structure has changed," a Bankers Trust spokesman said. "As a consequence, responsibilities are delegated along a broader spectrum. Various departments and divisions are more autonomous, and the men who head them are given titles commensurate with their responsibilities."

The banking fraternity is far more likely to have large numbers of vice presidents than industrial concerns.

General Motors, the world's largest private industrial firm, has a modest four executive V.P.'s and 31 regular vice presidents.

At General Electric there are 63 vice presidents, excluding a number of regional vice presidents. But then GE doesn't have a president it's chairman and three vice chairmen share in running the company.

One-product company or diversified giant, the vice president can fill various management needs.

Booz, Allen & Hamilton, a consulting firm which helps streamline thousands of corporate managements, has about 40 employees, more than 100 of whom have the vice president's title.

A banker suggested that industry has fewer vice presidents because it chooses to call them something else — division director, for instance.

But the point is that being a vice president does sound more impressive than being a division director.

And despite the fact that the tribe has increased, there is still glamor, prestige and money attached to the title.

"Sharing the title with a hundred other guys doesn't take the gloss off it," an assistant vice president of a New York bank explained. "I'd love to be one and my wife would love me to be one and my mother, who has always known I'm exceptionally talented, would love me to be one."

John Cunniff is on vacation.

GRAIN, SOYBEAN FUTURES DECLINE

CHICAGO (AP) — Grain and soybean futures prices declined on the Chicago Board of Trade Tuesday despite constructive factors in some commodities.

Sources said that traders were uneasy about the general state of the economy and the continuing weakness of the stock market, and tended to disengage themselves from futures activities.

Prices opened lower, moderated somewhat about noon, but then dropped again near the close.

Wheat futures were off more than a cent in mixed trade when speculators liquidated their positions.

Corn likewise was down by about a cent under late profit taking and short selling.

Soybeans were off about 1/2 cent on nearby options and by more than one cent on distant contracts.

At the close, wheat was 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 cents a bushel lower, July 1.35 1/2; corn was 1/4 to 1 1/2 cents lower, July 1.29; oats were 3/4 lower, July 64 1/2; rye was 3/4 to 1/2 lower, July 1.06 1/2; and soybeans were 1/2 to 1 1/4 cents lower, July 2.69 1/4.

GIFT FOR MUSEUM

CHICAGO (AP) — A set of first-edition copies of John James Audubon's "The Birds of America," has been presented to the Field Museum of Natural History.

The anonymous donor's folio, published in four volumes by Audubon in 1827-38, was purchased for him by Kenneth Nebenzahl, a Chicago rare books dealer, at auction in London on Nov. 24, 1969.

The set contains 448 plates engraved in aquatint and colored by hand from original drawings made by Audubon during his 25 years in the United States in the early 1800's.

One of two in existence, the original ownership of the folio was traced to Miss Euphemia Gilford, Derby England, cousin and close friend of Audubon's wife.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Premarital Blood Test Recommended Procedure

By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.

Although June is traditionally known as the month of brides, weddings are fairly evenly distributed throughout the year. In planning a wedding, however, some couples fail to include the blood test required in many states. In some cases, this may necessitate an embarrassing postponement.

This can be avoided by visiting your physician two or three weeks before the wedding date and telling him you want a serologic test for syphilis — a good idea even where it is not a legal requirement. When the test has been made, return to his office and get his certificate and the laboratory report.

In most states, the marriage license must be applied for not later than 15 days after the blood test and is valid for only 30 days. This is because it is possible (even though unlikely) that one of the parties may have acquired syphilis in the interim.

Although this whole procedure may sound terribly unromantic, it stems from the desire of the state — all too often justified — to protect the future offspring of a marriage. Syphilis is a treacherous disease and its most tragic blows fall on blameless infants.

Q—If a woman smokes during pregnancy, will this have a harmful effect on her baby?

A—Yes. Heavy smoking has been shown to increase the chances of a miscarriage, still birth or premature delivery. Most authorities urge women to stop smoking during pregnancy, a small price to pay for giving a child a good start in life.

Q—My doctor is giving me Robinul. He says I'll have to take it the rest of my life. What is it for? Are there any bad side effects?

A—This drug, glycopyrrolate, is given for such digestive disorders as peptic ulcer, gastritis, hiatus hernia, persistent heartburn, gall bladder disease, pancreatitis, colitis and diverticulitis. It should not be taken by anyone who has glaucoma, an enlarged prostate or sensitivity to barbiturates. The chief side effects are dry mouth, blurred vision and constipation, but these are rarely seen when the usually prescribed dosage is taken.

Ruby: Allison Earned His Spot

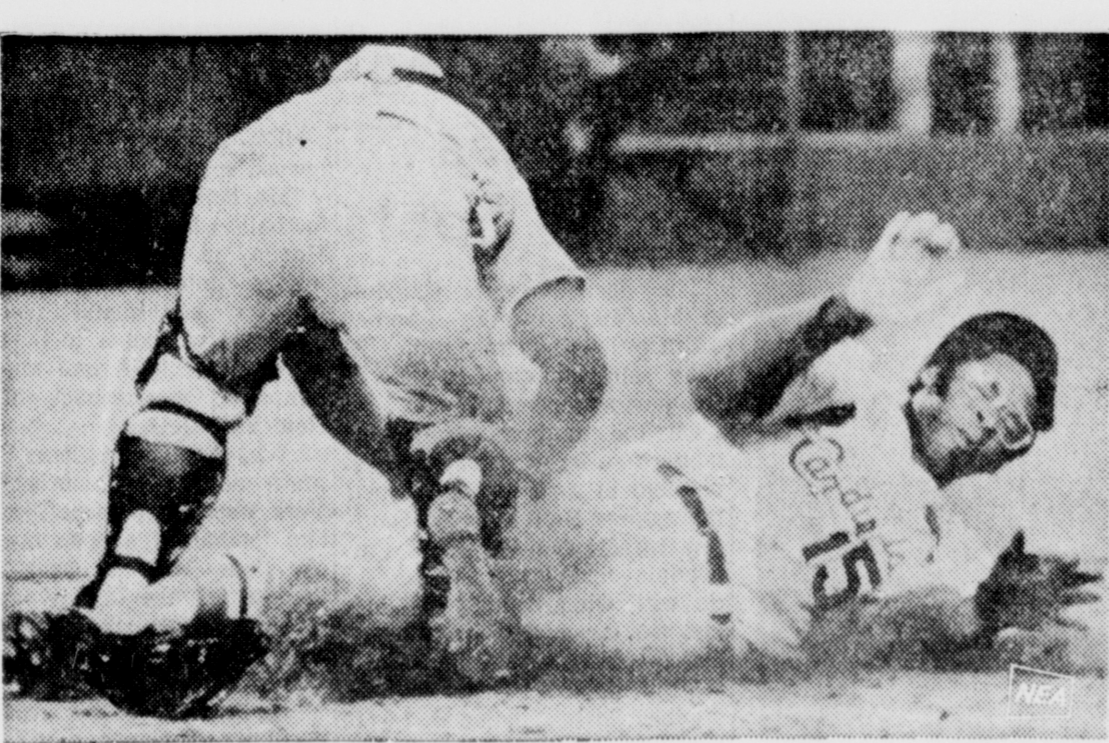

(Second of a Series) By LLOYD RUBY Written for THE ASSOCIATED PRESS INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Rookies have a hard time at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway. Now, it's hard to imagine anybody having a harder time qualifying for this year's race than me, but I'll guarantee there's one rookie who earned his starting position. Donnie Allison, the stock car rookie from down south, spun twice the first week he was here and he starts 23rd, which is darned good for a shave-tail. Luck didn't have anything to do with what happened to Donnie before he qualified. It was a matter of experience. That's what it takes to run this place...experience. You have to know what to do and when to do it and where to do it. If you think I'm kidding, I'll give you a good example. Donnie Allison is a fine race driver. He had never been to the Speedway except for a tire test and about all he did was observe. He didn't run many laps on the track — just enough to know he wanted to drive in the Indy 500. Donnie spun the first day he went out on his rookie test. It was a good lesson for him. He told us later he was confused because some officials told him to run with two wheels below the yellow line, which actually is way below the groove. Donnie didn't know how fast he was going when he went into the corner and tried to keep his left wheels too low and that's when he lost it. If he had run at any speed on the track before, he would have known you can't go fast down there. He lost it again later but that time it was a real windy day. He zipped down in the third corner flat out. There's a gap between the grandstands in the third corner and the wind can play all sorts of funny tricks on you there. The wind caught Donnie and moved him out of the groove and he jerked the wheel to the left real quick to correct it. I

Rutherford Sees Victory Omens

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Johnny Rutherford, one of the front row starters in the Indianapolis 500-mile race, believes omens are at work to put him in victory lane Saturday. "They say that the 500 is won from the pole position every seven years," Rutherford said Tuesday. "Well, numbers are working for me, too. This is my seventh start at Indy. This is my seventh wedding anniversary, and I have won four races from a seventh starting position." "Seven years ago, in 1963, I set fast time in qualifying for the Daytona 500, my first big stock car race. And 11 years ago this spring I raced for the first time in a professional event."

Rutherford, 32, of Fort Worth, Tex., and other drivers relaxed around the speedway garage Tuesday while their cars were being prepared for carburetion tests Wednesday the only time they'll be allowed on the race track prior to the race start at noon EDT Saturday. Most of the machines have been rebuilt, piece by piece, since two weeks of qualifying set up the fastest field in history. The 33 qualifiers averaged 165.375 miles per hour, beginning with Al Unser's pole-winning 170.221 m.p.h. and ending with Jim

Flood Rests Case

NEW YORK (AP) — Curt Flood rested his $3 million antitrust suit against baseball Tuesday and turned the field over to the defense after a Federal Court judge refused to dismiss the case. Judge Irving Ben Cooper ordered the case to continue "until all the evidence has been adduced," as he turned down a motion by baseball's lawyers, Mark Hughes, to dismiss all of the counts. Baseball commissioner Bowie Kuhn is expected to be the first to testify Wednesday morning when the case resumes. It is expected to last at least another week. Flood, the former St. Louis

Mays Ahead Of '69 Pace In Homers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — "I feel a lot stronger this year, but I don't want to talk about it too much," says Willie Mays as he continues to creep up on Babe Ruth's all-time home run mark. The 39-year-old San Francisco Giant center fielder had a three-homer weekend, giving him 11 for the season and 611 for his career. With the firing of Manager Clude King stealing the headlines, hardly anyone noticed. Last season, when he was limited to 117 games because of injuries and rest time, Mays totaled just 13 home runs. Ruth's all-time mark of 714 homers looked very safe. May's answer when asked about the possibility of breaking the record was, "I can't cut that one."

He's not going to jinx himself with optimism at this point, but says, "The main thing is just to be able to play. As long as I'm not embarrassing anyone, I'll but out there." The only people embarrassed in the weekend games with San Diego were younger players who couldn't keep up with Willie. He had four hits, including two home runs, in Saturday's 15-inning, 17-16 loss to the Padres. He went all the way in the 5 hour, 29 minute game. On Sunday, as the Giants began play under new manager Charlie Fox, Mays swept the way as the team played a doubleheader. He had another home run and two RBIs. "I won't play both games too often," he said Tuesday. "But some days I go out to the park and just feel good. We had an off-day Monday, too. That made a difference."

McElreath's 166.821 for 33rd place. Wednesday's runs—for only three hours—are to check out race day setups for cars and drivers, along with determining how far the machines can go with a load of fuel and with new tires. Rutherford became somewhat of a darling with the speedway crowd when he came out of nowhere to post a four-lap speed of 170.213 m.p.h. That put him in the middle of the front row between Unser and three-time winner A.J. Foyt Jr. Admitting that Unser and Foyt probably are the pre-race favorites, Rutherford said he has no fear of either the odds or his first-row companions.

Colbert Blasts Pair Of Homers For 8-1 Triumph

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Nate Colbert drove in four runs with two homers off Jim Merritt and Ollie Brown hit a three-run homer, propelling the San Diego Padres to an 8-1 victory over Cincinnati in the first game of a doubleheader Tuesday night.

Hickman, Holtzman Spark 6-3 Victory

CHICAGO (AP) — Jim Hickman's homer capped a three-run first inning and the Chicago Cubs bunched three more runs in the fifth to back lefty Ken Holtzman for a 6-3 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates Tuesday. Holtzman padded his record to 6- with a seven-hitter, although he was hard hit. Manny Sanguillen and Bob Robertson socked solo homers off him in the second and sixth innings, and Robert Clemente and Sanguillen wasted doubles. Ron Santo doubled home the first run for Chicago and Hickman followed with his eighth homer. The Cubs knocked out Steve Blass, 2-6, in the fifth, clustering five hits off him and two successors. Grzenda, Nats Notch 7-5 Count Over Red Sox

BOSTON (AP) — Journeyman reliever Joe Grzenda pitched one-hit ball for eight innings in his first major league start Tuesday night as the Washington Senators scored five times in the first inning and rolled to a 7-5 victory over the Boston Red Sox. The only hit he allowed for eight innings was Tony Conigliaro's two-run triple in the first after three Washington errors. Casey Cox came on in the ninth to get the last two outs after a two-run homer by Conigliaro. Pressed into starting service only because Cox, the scheduled starter, was ill, the 32-year-old Grzenda evened his record at 2-2. He had one strikeout and gave up only one walk. The Senators ripped into Boston starter Gary Peters for six hits and five runs in the top of the first. Kaat Wins Fifth On 6-2 Decision

ST. PAUL-MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Pitcher Jim Kaat posted his fifth victory, drove in a run and scored the deciding run from first on a single as the Minnesota Twins defeated the Milwaukee Brewers 6-2 Tuesday night. Kaat wound up scoring twice and stroking two hits while hurling a five-hitter to push his record to 5-1. Danny Walton and Tommy Harper slammed opposite-field homers to right for the Brewers in the second and third. Kaat's single in the second drove in Paul Ratliff, who had doubled, to give the Twins a 2-1 lead. Then, with the hit-and-run on, Kaat scored from first on Rod Carew's single.

Here Is How 'Experts' Pick The Indy Starters

- INDIANAPOLIS (AP) —With the Indianapolis 500 still four days away, the experts around Gasoline Alley already have tabbed Al Unser and A. J. Foyt favorites to win auto racing's richest prize. Unser, 31, put his Colt-turbocharged Ford on the pole with a four-lap speed of 170.221 miles per hour. Foyt, 35, a three-time winner, starts on the outside of the front row after qualifying at 170.004 m.p.h. There are 31 other cars in the field, four of them manned by rookies. The average qualifying speed of the 33 starters was 165.373. A panel of four veteran observers of the Memorial Day classic was asked to rate the field and the chances of each driver, including the rookies, to win. There is no pari-mutuel betting in auto racing, but if there were, the consensus of the panel would rate Unser and Foyt at 2 to 1 over the field. Roger McCluskey, who has the inside second row spot, was the only driver rated at 3 to 1. There were two drivers rated at 4 to 1, Mark Donohue and the 1968 winner Bobby Unser, while last year's champion Mario Andretti was placed at 6 to 1, probably because he has a completely new and untried car. Johnny Rutherford, the other front row qualifier at 170.213 m.p.h., was rated 7 to 1. Here is the way the field, in the order in which they will start the race, was rated along with capsule comment: 1. Al Unser; Tough to beat if he doesn't break; 2-1. 2. Johnny Rutherford; Morale is high, might feel race; 7-1. 3. A. J. Foyt; Wants badly to be the first four times; 2-1. 4. Roger McCluskey; New team, watch out for this one; 3-1. 5. Mark Donohue; Captain Nice, a real threat; 4-1. 6. Art Pollard; Could finish well up; 15-1. 7. Bobby Unser; Will lead sometime, maybe at end; 4-1. 8. Mario Andretti; New car, new crew, new problems; 6-1. 9. Jim Malloy; Good qualifier, short on experience; 20-1. 10. George Snider; Good car, probably finish top ten; 20-1. 11. Dan Gurney; Tired of second, will go for the bundle; 10-1. 12. Mike Mosley; Will probably win this race some day; 12-1. 13. Lee Roy Yarbrough; A good stocker, but is he hungry?; 14-1. 14. Bruce Walkup; Only one lap of experience at Indy; 30-1. 15. Rick Muther; Short on horsepower and experience; 30-1. 16. Peter Revson; He could be near front at finish; 15-1. 17. Gordon Johncock; Has a long way to go, but will go; 10-1. 18. Joe Leonard; Just a little too far back; 15-1. 19. Carl Williams; Best ride he has ever had; 25-1. 20. Gary Bettenhausen; Nothing but problems all month; 20-1. 21. George Follmer; Good driver, but 500 miles for car?; 20-1. 22. Mel Kenyon; Should finish in top 10 again; 30-1. 23. Donnie Allison; could be tough here, someday; 25-1. 24. Wally Dallenbach; Better get out of the way; 20-1. 25. Lloyd Ruby; Because here comes Ruby; 15-1. 26. Jack Brabham; Off if he had arrived sooner; 20-1. 27. Ronnie Bucknum; He'll drive as long as the car runs; 30-1. 28. Greg Weld; If it were only a sprint race; 30-1. 29. Jerry Grant; He'll pass a few cars before he breaks; 30-1. 30. Bill Vukovich; Strange car and question marks; 25-1. 31. Dick Simon; Short on experience and pieces; 30-1. 32. Sammy Sessions; Car needs more work, but he's in; 30-1. 33. Jim McElreath; He won't finish 33rd; 25-1.

Taylor's Inside The Park Homer Nets 3-2 Margin

MONTREAL (AP) — Tony Taylor belted a three-run inside-the-park homer in the ninth inning Tuesday night, giving the Philadelphia Phillies a 3-2 victory over the Montreal Expos.

Montreal's Bill Stoneman took a 1-0 lead into the ninth, when Del Bates led off with a single for the Phils' sixth hit. Pinch hitter Jim Hutto bounced to third baseman Coco Laboy, whose throw to second for an attempted force sailed into right field. Hutto was safe at first and Terry Harmon, running for Bates, took third on the error.

Byron Browne followed with a fly ball to shallow right that fell in front of Rusty Staub. But Harmon held third on the play and Browne was called out for passing Hutto on the basepath.

Taylor then drove a liner to right center and circled the bases behind Harmon and Hutto for his first homer of the season.

Right-hander Jim Nash, 6-1, was tagged for a three-run homer by Houston's Norm Miller in the first inning and worked out of mile jams in the fourth, sixth and seventh. He gave way to veteran reliever Hoyt Wilhelm after Miller led off the eighth with a double.

Horton Breaks Up Mound Duel In 3-0 Decision

DETROIT (AP) — Willie Horton slammed a three-run homer in the ninth inning Tuesday night, breaking up a brilliant pitching duel between Detroit's Earl Wilson and New York's Mel Stottlemyre and giving the Tigers a 3-0 victory.

Stottlemyre opened ninth by walking pinch hitter Gates Brown and Al Kaline sacrificed him to second. Norm Cash was purposely passed before Horton, who also hit a three-run shot in Monday's night triumph, crashed his sixth homer of the season into the upper left field stands.

It was only the fourth hit for Detroit, three by Horton. Wilson, 3-2, also hurled a four-hitter. Ironically, it was Stottlemyre's first complete game of the season, making his record 4-4.

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles backed Jim Hardin's five-hit pitching with a timely attack Wednesday night and defeated the Cleveland Indians for the fifth straight time 7-0.

Hardin 2-1, defeated Dean Chance, who failed for the eighth straight time to register his second victory and now stands 1-5.

Little-used utilityman Chico Salmon led the Baltimore attack, cracking four hits and raising his average to .483 with 14 hits in 29 tries.

Two walks, a single by Salmon and Boog Powell's sacrifice fly netted the Orioles a run in the third. They added two in the fifth, a Chance wild pitch and Paul Blair's double pushing the runs across.

Baltimore put it out of reach in the seventh with four runs, delivered by Powell, Brooks Robinson, Elrod Hendricks and Mark Belanger.

Clan Spring Card Has Bright Spots

The Spring Sports schedule at MacMurray College seemed a little lengthy this year, despite some outstanding individual performances.

On the diamond, the Highlanders suffered 17 rainouts, 14 of them in a row prior to opening against No. 11 ranked Southern Illinois University at Carbondale and losing 3-1. A 5-5 tie with Quincy that was later lost 6-5 on an error; and 1-0, and 5-1 defeats to Illinois State set the mood of frustration.

Other losses included 1-0 to Southern Illinois State (Edwardsville), 2-1 to Western Illinois; 2-1 to McKendree and 6-5 to Northeastern Illinois State in extra innings.

The Clan picked up six victories during the 19 game season, defeating Western Illinois 3-0 behind frosh Gary Metzger (2-4, 3-49 era); Illinois College twice 6-3 and 5-2, Washington University 5-0 behind senior Mark Thomas (1-2, 0-74 era), McKendree College 6-2 and Quincy College 11-5.

Glenn Stinson, senior left-fielder, led the Highlanders with 18 RBI, 5 home runs and a .333 average in a record breaking season. (Career hits—91, career home runs—19, No. 2 RBI—63). Third-baseman Dan Doyle hit .300, while Jim Long's 2-1 record set a career winning percentage mark. The rain and the loss of Mark Thomas, No. 2 era in the country last year, at midseason, hurt Dave Berst's squad immeasurably. But steady performances by sophomores Scott Murphy (2b-.262), Phil Bennett (1b-.258), and junior Louis Martinez (if-of-.279), and a young pitching staff, give the Clan Coach bright hopes for the future.

On the tennis courts, Coach Gil DeBotton had some early problems with inexperience on the squad consisting of 3 juniors, 3 sophomores, and a freshman. After a dismal start, the netsters bounced back to win 5 of their last eight dual matches for an overall mark of 5-6.

The Clan took a fourth in the Midlands Conference meet. Heading the squad were Dave Reid and Harry Noerenberg, both with 7-6 single marks.

The cindermen also started slow and came along as March passed into May.

The Clan thinclands won one triangular, defeating Blackburn and Illinois College, took a sixth in the MacMurray Invitational, seventh in the Elmhurst Relays and fourth in the Midlands Conference Meet.

Outstanding performers for the Highlanders include high jumper Bill Grund, who established a new school mark of 6'11 1/2"; pole vaulter Jim Moore, who established a new school record of 12'6" in the pole vault; Pete Kent in the javelin, with a first in the Mac Invitational and a second in the conference meet, distance man Rich Firebaugh and quarter miler Bruce Mathieson.

Coach Bill Wall's golfers also had some problems with an extremely tough schedule. The squad of Harvey Fernebok, Glenn Smith, Ron Whitley, Bob Silkwood, Tim Hopper, and Jim Renshaw won 4 of 13 dual meets. The high point of the season was the three-stroke victory in the Augustana Triangular. Mac finished fifth in the Conference meet and 26th in the North Central Invitational.

For the Highlanders, it was a disappointing year in some respects, and encouraging in others. Next spring will feature a youth movement with only three seniors returning in each of the four major sports.

Wood Preserves 3-1 Sox Victory

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Wilbur Wood snuffed out a Kansas City seventh-inning rally, protecting rookie Jerry Janeski's fourth victory as the Chicago White Sox beat the Royals 3-1 Tuesday night.

Janeski, 4-2, had a five-hit shutout going into the seventh, but wildness got him into trouble. He walked leadoff man Elie Rodriguez and gave up a single to Pat Kelly after one out.

Wood replaced Janeski and yielded a run-scoring single to Paul Schaaf. However, after a double steal Wood avoided any more damage by getting Kelly trapped off third on a bouncer to third and, following a passed ball, struck out Bob Oliver.

The White Sox staked Janeski to a 3-0 lead, scoring in the first on Tom McCraw's single, in the third on rookie Ossie Blanco's first major league hit and in the fifth on Luis Aparicio's double and an error.

Hollywood May Spoil Namath

NEW YORK (AP) — Has Hollywood spoiled Joe Namath?

"Maybe," the long-haired football hero acknowledged Monday in admitting he's having a tough time deciding whether he should continue making love scenes in the movies or come back and take his lumps as quarterback of the New York Jets.

"I have to be realistic," Namath added, in a brief New York stopover between films. "I like football. It's been my life. My legs feel stronger than they've felt the last five years — because I've stayed off them — but there are other considerations."

"Hollywood offers a great opportunity. The money is fantastic. I'm going to give it a try."

Besides, there are at least 30 pro athletes making more money than I do with the Jets. It's something I must think about."

Clean Rust Off Pans With Fine Steel Wool

By POLLY CRAMER
DEAR POLLY—I am answering Mary S., as I had the same trouble with rust spots on cupcake pans. I scrub mine, then use paper muffin cups in them. This saves having to wash the pans between each baking until the entire job is done.—DONNA
DEAR POLLY—Do tell Mary S. that she should scrub her cupcake pans clean of all that rust with very fine steel wool. Wash them in sudsy water, rinse and DRY THOROUGHLY. Cover the inside with unsalted lard and bake in a slow oven for an hour. Remove, wipe dry, cover the bottom with more melted, unsalted lard and bake again. (Polly's note—Cooking oil could be substituted for the lard.) Wipe clean. Thereafter, always be absolutely certain the pan is thoroughly dry before putting it away after use.—IDA

Polly's Problem
DEAR POLLY—Is there anything I can make out of worn leather purses? I bought them as souvenirs of trips, such as an alligator one from Florida, handtooled from Mexico and so on. Now they have worn spots, but I would like to keep some part of each of them.—MRS. A. B.

The minutes were read. There were 30 sick calls reported. Mrs. Robert Kircher gave the treasurer's report.

DEAR POLLY—Do you ever have a hard time rolling up those short wisps of baby hair on a little girl? Try putting half a sheet of toilet tissue or facial tissue around each wet strand before rolling it up or making it into a pin curl. This controls those straggly ends and makes a neat curl.

CANCER TOPIC AT GREENFIELD CHURCH SOCIETY

GREENFIELD — More than 40 members of the Ladies Society of the St. Michael's Catholic church of Greenfield were shown films on breast cancer and uterine cancer at their meeting Wednesday, May 20.

Mrs. Clarence Longmeyer, president, introduced Leslie G. Aikman, area executive director of the American Cancer Society, who outlined the problem of cancer and the education program of the American Cancer Society.

Aikman said, "Our objective is to convince people that they should have an annual checkup even though they feel good. If a warning signal of cancer is present, they should seek the services of a doctor immediately."

Following the films, Dr. James C. Reid of Greenfield gave a critique of the films and conducted a question and answer session of female cancer with a chalk talk and blackboard illustrations.

Welcome Women Applicants As Air Controllers

WASHINGTON (AP) — There are only about 25 women among more than 21,000 American air traffic controllers—but those who do the hiring say this doesn't result from discrimination and they'd welcome more distaff applications.

And the Federal Aviation Administration notes that after two years of training student controllers may become eligible for jobs paying $11,000 to more than $21,000 a year in FAA centers, towers and flight-service stations.

There are indications that the picture is changing, says Fred M. "Dick" Marks, chief of the air traffic control training branch at the FAA Academy at Oklahoma City.

Marks says the academy's most recent graduating class of about 380 students included 21 women. He adds that an ever greater number of women are beginning to enter the training pipeline.

"We look for people who can concentrate on details, visualize things in three dimensions, and almost instinctively tell where an airplane is going, just by looking at flight strips," Marks says.

"Many women do extremely well at this," Dr. Stanley Mohler, of the FAA Office of Aviation Medicine, says the calm voice of a woman can be most reassuring to pilots in distress.

All applicants are rated on the same selection basis—training, education and experience—regardless of sex.

The basic requirements for eligibility are a college degree or at least three years of progressively responsible work experience.

In addition, applicants must pass aptitude tests and meet customary medical requirements.

Women trainees at Oklahoma City for the most part are enthusiastic about entering the field.

Says Mrs. Elizabeth Koch, a former airline hostess, "I feel I am entering a man's world, but I am looking forward to my assignment to the flight service station at Washington National airport."

Compulsory Insurance Successful In San Juan

By JOSE F. SERRA
Associated Press Writer
SAN JUAN, P.R. (AP) — The director of Puerto Rico's unusual compulsory auto insurance program says its first four months have been a complete success, bringing benefits to both insured and the government.

The government - financed compulsory insurance program is the only one of its kind under the U.S. flag. Twenty-one U.S. states have so far sought information on the Puerto Rico plan, as have Brazil, the Dominican Republic and Canada.

The administration provides benefits to persons injured in traffic accidents. In case of death, compensation is awarded to the widow and the children of the victim. There is no compensation for property damage, which is worked out by the parties involved, either in court or by private settlement.

"In the last four months we have knocked down all the arguments made against the auto accident compensation administration," said the director, Frank Fournier.

Only 25 per cent of island drivers previously were covered by private insurance and only 15 per cent of all traffic victims received compensation for their injuries, he added.

An island insurer, Manuel San Juan, said private insurance companies have had to reduce their premiums about 27 per cent due to the government's compulsory system. The insurers have had to make adjustments on injury and death payments, although private insurance still provides more benefits than the government program.

When the law creating the new program was discussed, many people predicted that compensations to be awarded from government funds would far outstrip the agency's revenue.

But Fournier found the opposite. To function for the last six months of this fiscal year—from Jan. to June 30—the administration has $8 million.

GREENFIELD — Members of the Greenfield Masonic Lodge are hosting a family picnic in Lions Park at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, June 6. Eastern Star and Rainbow members and their families are invited. All attending are asked to bring a covered dish and their own table service. Beverages will be provided.

Destroyed Temple
In 586 B.C., Nebuchadnezzar, the Babylonian king, led a mighty army against Jerusalem. This brought about the fall of the kingdom of Judah and the destruction of King Solomon's temple.

As of April 30, it had committed only about $2 million. Of this $911,000 was for medical aid, $67,000 for burial expenses, $95,000 for disability, and $15,000 for loss of limb. About $307,000 was awarded to dependents of the 145 persons who died in traffic accidents.

"If accidents follow the descending rhythm of the last four months," Fournier says, "we will have a sizable amount left over in our budget."

The budget comes from the fixed sum of $35 that every driver pays annually. Last year, drivers paid half this amount for a six-month period. This year, with the entire sum to be paid, Fournier is counting on about $20 million. Puerto Rico has 570,000 vehicles.

"The agency does not pay compensation in all cases. If the person involved is not authorized to drive, is drunk or under the influence of drugs or if the accident occurs during a racing competition, no compensation is paid."

Nor is the compensation paid if the accident occurs during the perpetration of a criminal act or if it is deliberate.

Fournier believes that his agency's campaign to reduce traffic accidents has helped somewhat. He also credits work done by the Police Department, the Public Works Department and the Education Department.

HOLDS ARMY TO RELEASE ILLEGALLY RECLASSIFIED MEN

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A federal judge holds that the Army should release the estimated 6,000 men who were illegally reclassified I-A and drafted prior to a U.S. Supreme Court ruling banning such inductions.

U.S. District Court Judge Alfonso J. Zirpoli's order Monday to release Pfc. Robert W. Andre was called the first retroactive application of the high court's Gutknecht decision of last January.

The 23-year-old Downey, Calif., man, now at Ft. Ord, Calif., was inducted April 9, 1969, by a draft board which accelerated his induction because he failed to supply the board an address change.

He petitioned for release last March on the basis of the Supreme Court's 5-3 decision that it was illegal for the draft board of David E. Gutknecht of Gaylord, Minn., to hasten his induction because he turned in his draft card at a 1967 antiwar rally.

Zirpoli said there was "no substantial reason" why the Gutknecht decision should not apply to Andre and others already inducted. He said it was the intent of the Supreme Court ruling to insure that drafting men would be "based on the facts which would properly place them in the I-A category."

The judge granted a 10-day stay of execution of the order to release Andre U.S. Atty. James L. Browning said he will file an appeal speedily.

Browning had argued there was a "compelling national interest" against applying the Gutknecht decision retroactively to some 6,000 men in the service. He said it would cause great administrative problems.

THREE ILLINOIS MEN KILLED IN VIETNAM WAR
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department released Monday the names of three Illinois servicemen killed in action in the Vietnam war.

They were: Army Staff Sgt. Robert L. Fozzard, husband of Mrs. Peggy J. Fozzard, 315 S. 15th St., Murphysboro; Sgt. Michael A. Wainwright, son of Albert W. Wainwright, Maple Acres Court, Princeton, and Spec. 4 Joseph M. Hartl, son of Arthur K. Hartl, 8906 S. Paulina St., Chicago.

with lowering the number of accidents that have occurred this year.

According to Fournier's predictions, based on figures from the first four months, 51,690 accidents will occur this year compared to 57,165 last year.

Presbyterians Vote To Study Sexuality Report

CHICAGO (AP) — The 132nd General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. has voted to "receive for study" a controversial report on sexuality which a spokesman said offers a "vantage point for understanding."

The Rev. Richard P. Unsworth, a professor of religion at Smith College and the head of a task force which drafted the report, stressed that the report "is not a code ... It is a vantage point for understanding, a framework for thinking."

The report, received by a vote of 485 to 250 Monday night, will be disseminated to the denomination's 3.2 million members for study and discussion. Among subjects dealt with in the report are adultery, homosexuality, abortion and premarital sex.

An amendment to the acceptance of the report passed by a 356 to 347 margin. It read: "We reaffirm our adherence to the moral law of God as revealed in the Old and New Testament that adultery, prostitution and homosexuality is sin..."

A portion of the report stated, "We recognize there may be exceptional circumstances where extramarital sexual activity may not be contrary to the interests of a faithful concern for the well-being of the marriage partner, as might be the case when one partner suffers permanent mental or physical incapacity."

The Rev. Mr. Unsworth said, "We do not say adultery is okay."

He added that "adultery is not only a sin, but it is a crime. It is a man who spends too many hours at his job, whose loyalties are not to his spouse."

He said that "as long as we are hung up on the coital union as the definition of faithfulness, we'll never get out of this bind."

On homosexuality, the report said laws prohibiting it between consenting adults "are morally unsupportable, contribute nothing to the public welfare and inhibit rather than permit changes in behavior by homosexual persons."

Mrs. Norman K. Imes, author of a motion to substitute the report, called it a "sensational and shocking document" and predicted that it would "shame and embarrass" Presbyterians and induce many persons to leave the denomination.

Mrs. Imes and minority members of the task force that prepared the report said it should stress that sex is acceptable only within marriage and that perversions and homosexuality should be condemned.

The report stated that abortion should be "a matter of careful ethical decision between the patient and her physician or her pastor and therefore should not be restricted by law except that it be performed under the direction and control of a properly licensed physician."

Increased attention to sexuality in the education of children, adolescents and adults was urged by the report as well as further study of abortion and research into homosexuality.

FDA Critic Quietly Demoted

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Food and Drug Administration has quietly demoted the man who accused some agency bureaucrats of altering laboratory conclusions which cast doubt on established FDA regulatory policy.

FDA Commissioner Charles C. Edwards reorganized a pathology unit last week making Dr. Howard L. Richardson the acting number 2 man in a new pathology division. Richardson had been the FDA's chief pathologist since 1968.

Edwards installed Dr. Bert J. Vos as acting head of the pathology division, according to an FDA memorandum dated May 19. Vos, a longtime agency official, is a medical doctor but not a pathologist.

However, a leading pathologist from the government's National Cancer Institute is in line for the job on a permanent basis, an FDA spokesman emphasized.

Richardson was brought in to revitalize FDA pathology in part because of a reputation he gained in the Veterans Administration as a hard-nosed scrappier committed to scientific integrity, knowledgeable FDA officials say.

FDA memoranda show that Richardson has ranked long-time agency officials during the past year and a half with insistent demands for upgrading pathology in the agency. Pathology is the branch of medicine dealing with the causes of tissue injury and death.

A memorandum written by Richardson Oct. 20, 1969, as a subject of later news stories increased tensions within the troubled agency.

Richardson charged that bureaucrats with limited scientific training expunged conclusions and recommendations from reports of certain animal experiments. The experiments in question appeared to contradict official agency positions on the safety of some food additives, most notably the artificial sweetener cyclamate.

Richardson has met mounting bureaucratic retaliation since news stories of his charges appeared one month ago, reliable FDA officials said. Richardson is attending a scientific meeting in Texas and was not available for comment.

Edwards, asked to comment on Richardson's demotion, said he was seeking "an outstanding leader" for the pathology division.

A source close to Edwards said Richardson was not deemed to be that outstanding leader. The decision on Richardson's leadership quality was made before the news stories appeared, the source said.

Richardson's demotion comes at a sensitive time for the agency. A House subcommittee has scheduled hearings next month on FDA operations, including Richardson's allegations.

Better Care Urged For Retarded

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's 200,000 mentally retarded persons frequently receive treatment comparable to that of prisoners of war, reports The President's Committee on Mental Retardation.

A four-year study released Monday by the panel said that many mentally retarded persons confined to tax-supported institutions receive only "dehumanizing custodial care."

"Drastic improvement is essential for the institutions which offer away-from-home residential care for mentally retarded persons, the panel found."

Panel Chairman Raymond W. Vowell, vice chancellor of the University of Texas, said a sys-

ASHLAND JR. HIGH ATHLETES HONORED

ASHLAND — The Junior High Athletic banquet was held in the school cafeteria recently with 95 in attendance. A potluck meal was enjoyed with the Booster club furnishing Southern fried chicken, rolls and drink.

Jack Wankel, president of the Ashland Booster club, served as toastmaster for the evening. Brother Dean Entekin, pastor of the Church of Christ, offered the invocation.

Miss Jean Gifforn, cheerleader sponsor, presented a charm bracelet and charm to the following junior high cheerleaders: Lila Merritt, Cathy Gardner, Janet Newell, Jenine Thornley and Tricia Wankel.

The lightweight basketball team coach, Michael Donnan, presented letter awards to Gary Eskew, Brian Duling, Jeff Cosner, Jim Briggs, Larry Ratliff, Jim Reiser, John Allen, Paul Durako and Allen Klein.

Receiving honorable mention were Tom Allen, Keith Campbell, Duwayne Farmer and Mark Gardner.

Managers for the junior high teams were Tom Hand and Russell Morton. John Spradlin was voted the most valuable player on the heavyweight team.

Boys earning their letters in baseball were Greg Way, Tom Doolin, Allen Klein, Brian Duling, Gary Eskew, Larry Ratliff, Jeff Cosner, Les Keyes, Jack Cosner, Howard Levertton, Dale Meyer, Kermit Long, Arnold Elliott, Bob Johnson.

A special thanks was expressed by both coaches to the scorekeeper, Bill Ratliff, and the timekeeper, Joseph Zimmerman, and the many parents for their support through the year.

Speaker for the evening was Calvin Forman, former Ashland athlete, who is now a junior at Lincoln Christian College and youth minister for the Rochester Church of Christ.

tem of accreditation for the institutions is being prepared to improve the welfare of the mentally retarded.

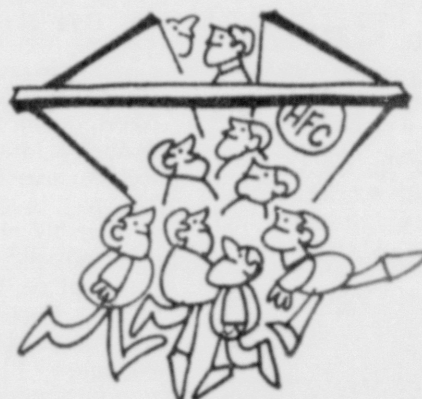

The committee emphasized the retarded must be permitted to live as normal a life as possible in a residential setting, in contrast to the "inherited philosophy ... of isolation, coupled with disease-oriented treatment," that prevails today.

Dehumanization in huge dormitory-like settings must be replaced with a more personal grouping which permits privacy and individuality, the committee said.

About $1 billion in tax dollars is spent each year for treatment of the mentally retarded.

The panel said the goal of residential services for the mentally retarded should be four-fold: to encourage physical, intellectual and social capabilities to the fullest; to develop emotional maturity commensurate with social and intellectual growth; when possible, to develop skills, habits and attitudes essential for return to contemporary society, and to provide a personally satisfying life within the institutional environment.

Birds possess the same senses as humans, but they are developed to a different degree.

Senate Dumps School Aid Proposal Again

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — The Illinois Senate proved tenacious in its resistance to state aid for nonpublic schools Tuesday when it defeated for the second time in two days an attempt to get an aid proposal out of committee and onto the Senate floor.

In Chicago, John Cardinal Cody, archbishop of the diocese of Chicago, termed the Senate action "a keen disappointment" and said it "obviously was based on the presumption that denying state aid to nonpublic schools will force hundreds of them to close down this June."

"This seems to be what certain members of the Illinois Senate would desire," the catholic prelate said in a statement.

Tuesday's last ditch move for a floor vote came in a surprise motion by Sen. William J. Schoeninger, D-Chicago, to take from the Senate Education Committee a bill sponsored by Rep. John Matijevich, also a Chicago Democrat.

The Matijevich bill would provide aid for the nonpublic schools at a rate of $48 per elementary pupil and $60 for the high school student.

The vote was 28 for, 26 against and one voting present. Thirty votes were needed to discharge the bill from committee.

The dumping of the move to revive the aid question came within two hours after a statement by Gov. Richard Ogilvie that he was "still optimistic" that with amendments the Matijevich bill could meet Senate approval.

Matijevich himself had predicted the Senate would approve his bill if it could be discharged from the Senate Education Committee—a committee which has successfully choked all nonpublic school aid bills in two legislative sessions.

Gov. Richard Ogilvie predicted last week he would see passage of the school aid legislation and promised some "arm twisting" to get the job done.

Senate GOP leader, W. Russell Arrington of Evanston refused to support the discharge motion for the second day.

Senate Minority Leader Sen. Thomas A. McGloin, D-Chicago, who led Democratic support of the bill in the Senate, charged Arrington with "abandoning his party's leadership (Ogilvie)."

Predominant opposition in the Senate to public aid to the nonpublic schools included contentions that aid would weaken the public school system, and that the aid would be a violation of constitutional church-state separation mandates.

Also some senators opposed the discharge motion because they said it would serve a blow to the honored "committee system," and others because they preferred to wait until a report was made by the Legislative Elementary and Secondary Nonpublic School Study Commission.

In his statement, Cardinal Cody referred to a measure passed by the Senate earlier to set up machinery to pay public schools for the education of children forced out of nonpublic schools closed because of financial problems.

"As the spiritual leader of a Catholic school system enrolling almost 300,000 pupils I am deeply concerned about this governmental plan which in effect may shut down many nonpublic schools," the statement said.

"As a responsible leader in both the religious and civic community I shall take vigorous steps to defend the rights of Illinois' nonpublic schools," Cardinal Cody said.

"The Senate's action is a keen disappointment to thousands of people who have campaigned long and hard for state aid," he said. "I know how they feel. We should not, however, allow our disappointment to be expressed in hasty or poorly planned action."

"We now need the calm, careful leadership of our archdiocesan school board which will meet in special session tonight and many more nights to develop workable plans for the future," Cardinal Cody said.

Senate Okays Disturbance Probe Panel

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — The Illinois Senate Tuesday overwhelmingly approved a joint resolution to create a 10-member committee to determine the causes of recent campus disturbances at state colleges and universities.

The resolution, sponsored by Sen. William Horsley, R-Springfield, must now be approved in the House.

If adopted, the resolution would establish a committee of five senators and five representatives to conduct the investigation.

The resolution calls for the committee to report its findings Dec. 22.

Sen. Robert Cherry, D-Chicago, opposed the proposed committee. "It's a waste of the taxpayers' money," he said.

Cherry argued the committee could not provide answers regarding campus disturbances that are not already known. He said it could be conjured as a method of "harrassing college students."

He said the committee's investigations could "create more disorders."

Horsley said the resolution is not an attempt by him to "intimidate the students."

Case Settled For Undisclosed Sum Tuesday

Circuit Judge William Chamberlain announced at 1 p.m. Tuesday the settlement of a case in Morgan county circuit "for an undisclosed sum."

The jurors were discharged from further service and the court docket cleared for further cases.

An eight-member jury, three jurors awaiting final selection, and a dozen more prospective jurors were sent to lunch after a three-hour "idle" period in the Morgan county circuit court room Tuesday.

Circuit Judge William Chamberlain recessed circuit court at 5:15 p.m. Monday because the court had exhausted the supply of prospective jurors.

Judge Chamberlain convened court Monday morning to hear the case of Dennis P. McHatt, administrator of the estate of Lois Ann McHatt vs. William E. Caldwell, driver of a truck involved in a fatal accident Feb. 20, 1968.

The case also included at least three other cases: Schmidgall Transfer Co. vs. Tina Barber and Tina Barber vs. William E. Caldwell and Schmidgall Transfer Co.

Dennis McHatt sought up to $300,000 surrounding the death of his wife, Lois, in a three-vehicle accident on East Morton Road at Brooklyn Avenue.

Eight jurors were selected during Monday's session: Evelyn Burke, Charles M. Davis, Mabel A. Doolin, Helen D. Tipps, Doris Deweese and Helen Dial.

Sheriff Dean Colwell and his deputies were busy Monday evening serving subpoenas on prospective jurors to report to the court room Tuesday morning.

Attorneys R. G. Heckenkamp and Robert Bradley represent McHatt; Ben Miller of Springfield represents Tina Barber; William L. Fay and John Bellatti represent the truck driver.

REITHER on Beardstown

BEARDSTOWN — For many years the Illinois Glove Company and its predecessor Wells Lamont Glove company have played an important role in the diversified industrial picture here, and now Illinois Glove is doing a little diversification of its own.

Producers of quality work gloves and other glove items for all of its history, Illinois Glove for the past two weeks has been manufacturing a new line of leather goods including mini skirts, vests, and as "samplers," ponchos, purses, belts, headbands, and hip slingers.

Bob Hickernell, manager of the plant, says Beardstown workers are now turning out about 200 pieces per day of these cowhide leather items, some of them attractively fringed.

"We have a half dozen people on these jobs," Hickernell explained. "They have just been pulled out of the line and put to the new tasks."

In addition, the company has installed some new machinery including hytonic cutter presses known as "clickers."

Hickernell says the mini skirts and vests are being shipped to firms like Penny's, Sears, Goldblatts and Klines.

The Illinois Glove company plant at Iron Wood, Michigan began the new venture in December and its expansion to Beardstown is an indication of the company faith in new fashions in leather.

Thus far, the mini skirts are for girls 7 to 13 as well as for women and are in 18 different colors. Men will also be interested in some of the garments.

"Leather is good," said Hickernell. "and the trend seems to be to the Indian Look."

It's all a part of the "mod style." These fashions were designed by Steve Saunders, Greenwich Village, and are featured in the June issue of Vogue. Some of them were modeled by Cher of Sonny and Cher fame and are quite expensive. Garments made in Beardstown, however, are to be less costly.

Hickernell said the fashions are to be shown on an upcoming Johnny Carson Tonight show.

The Beardstown plant has been operating at capacity for many months. It has been expanded and modernized in all of its spacious departments.

The payroll includes about 85 to 100 men and women, depending upon the season.

Gloves from the Beardstown plant have been shipped by truck and through the mails to every part of the United States and foreign countries for many years — plant managers are hopeful they can parlay the new items into a big success.

Vote To Retain Ballot Space For Treasurer

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — The Illinois Constitutional Convention Tuesday by a 55 to 50 vote rejected shortening the ballot by appointment of the state treasurer.

The vote to retain the treasurer as an elective officer supported recommendations of the committee on the executive branch.

Other committee recommendations are still to be acted on. But the vote on the office of treasurer apparently set a trend. The convention rejected also a proposal to abolish the office of lieutenant governor. The committee has recommended the office be teamed up with the governor on the ballot and the two officers be elected as a unit.

Opponents of keeping the treasurer elective said making it appointive would save a million dollars annually and would strengthen the governor's office. They also contended the office of treasurer has been mostly a stepping stone for those aspiring to higher political office.

They said the only function of investing funds was ministerial and could be handled more efficiently under the governor's direction.

Stamm was ticketed for failure to yield.

Both cars were demolished.

Born in Rockbridge September 11, 1884, she graduated from the Illinois Women's College in Jacksonville in 1906. When her family moved to California, she attended the University of Southern California and received her B. A. degree there.

Later she returned to Rockbridge to make her home with her sister, Mrs. Philip Postel.

The concern which Miss Holnback and her family have shown for MacMurray through the years has helped to maintain their ties with Jacksonville.

Surviving are one sister, Mrs. Philip Postel, and a number of nephews and nieces, including Charles Postel of Rockbridge and Mrs. David Braswell of Belleville. Her brother Peter preceded her in death.

She was a devoted member of Rockbridge Methodist church, where her funeral was held Tuesday. Burial will be in Forest Lawn cemetery, Los Angeles, Wednesday morning.

Local Highway Bonding Plan Meets Denial

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — The Illinois House refused Tuesday to consider a bill which would permit the state to use city bonding powers for building state roads.

Rep. Robert Blair, R-Park Forest, author of the bill, failed by two votes to receive the 89 needed to place the measure in position for a passage vote.

Two weeks ago, Blair couldn't muster enough votes to pass another key bill in the program applying to county bond issues.

Blair, chairman of the Illinois Highway Study Commission, offered the proposals as a stop-gap substitute for a $2 billion state bond issue which was voided by the Illinois Supreme Court.

Blair's plan called for counties and cities to issue bonds for $58 million construction of supplemental freeways.
